

GOV. PAYNE WILL SPEAK

At the "Boost Maine" Campaign In This City
Tuesday May 3

Gov. Frederick G. Payne, honorary chairman, will open the Boost Maine Campaign in Knox, Lincoln and Waldo Counties at a dinner meeting in the Thorndike Hotel, Tuesday May 3, Harold F. Schurle, general chairman of the State-wide committee, announced today.

Sponsoring committees for the three counties are now being set up and will be announced next week, Schurle declared. Each county will have a separate organization, but the campaigns will be conducted simultaneously with headquarters in Rockland, due to its central location for the area.

County directors of the Maine Publicity Bureau, which is sponsoring the drive, will be chairmen of their county committees. These are: Knox, Alfred C. Hocking of St. George; Waldo, Arthur B. Clark of Belfast; and Lincoln, Clarence Race of Edgcomb.

Purpose of the Boost Maine movement is to reawaken the "booster" spirit among the people of Maine. Implementation of this objective will be both by stronger legislative support for the Maine Development Commission and increased membership in the Maine Publicity Bureau, which is the "tailor" in promoting Maine and supported entirely by voluntary business and professional memberships. This financial support provides the "fuel" for Maine's coordinated promotional "machine."

The present drive is the first phase in the Boost Maine program, which will extend over the coming months and years immediately ahead. It is being taken county-by-county to obtain the maximum "grass roots" effect and to enable the Publicity Bureau to come in closer contact with local and individual promotional problems and needs. A broad expansion program in promoting more business for Maine already has been adopted by the Board of Directors of the Maine Publicity Bureau and its effect will be seen and felt during the coming Summer as a starter.

Schurle said that the Boost Maine campaign is "snowballing" along in the five counties where it has already been held since the "biggest movement ever to hit the State of Maine." It has been held so far in Androscoggin, Kennebec, Oxford, York and Cumberland Counties and has produced many direct and indirect results already, all with the goal of stimulating business activity.

Gov. Payne is the "sparkplug" and titular leader of the Boost Maine Campaign, which he first proposed at a meeting in Bangor several years ago. In each county he has appealed to the business and professional people to do their part of the job and has promised that the State also will do its share in promoting more business by a number of new projects.

POWER WILL BE OFF SUNDAY A. M.

The Central Maine Power gives notice that electric service will be interrupted from 3 to 6 a. m., (standard time) Sunday in the following areas: Camden, Lincolnville, Hope, Rockport, Montville, Liberty, Washington, Appleton, Union, Waldo, Corro, Bremen, Friendship, Jefferson, Cushing, Thomaston, Warren, West Rockport, Lawrence Portland Cement Company, and all large electric power connections in Rockland. The recent electrical storm played havoc with sub-station equipment and transmission lines, notably the transformer station at "Maxey's" which was very badly damaged.

MAY HAVE ROTARY TRAFFIC

In Order To Contend With Congested Conditions In Certain Areas

Rotary traffic may be introduced to the Tillson avenue and Winter street area this Summer, according to Chief of Police Shaw who will present the plan to the City Council shortly for approval.

Shaw states that the congestion of last year prompted the study which now takes the form of a proposal due to the expected added activity in the area this year. He points out that traffic bottlenecks at the heads of Winter street and Tillson avenue causes considerable congestion at the rush hours of noon and 4 p. m., as well as almost continually through the business hours. Heavy trucks moving to and from the commercial area on the Point find it difficult to make the swing either into or from Tillson avenue, he points out, due to other traffic either leaving or entering the same street.

He will recommend that Tillson avenue be made one way entering from Main for eastbound traffic while Winter street will be one way leaving the Point area for westbound traffic. He points out that Pink and Pearl streets will accommodate cross traffic either way and that there is additional passage available on the street running just West of the General Seaford plant.

To further clear the traffic jam on Main street, he will recommend that a left turn off Spring street be prohibited. He observes that traffic on Spring street, inasmuch as to turn left to travel North often waits several minutes before there is a break in the southbound traffic on Main street to allow them to leave Spring. The resultant jam is a hazard as the fire apparatus needs a clear way at all times on the street.

He believes that the establishment of the rotary traffic plan in the Point area would be a real service to those people having plants in the section, and their employees, as it would expedite the movement of employee vehicles and trucks serving their plants.

Plants on the Point have increased their capacities the past Winter, which will call for added employees as soon as the fishing season opens in full, he said.

Top fun of the season, the Grand Spring Costume Barn Dance will be held Tuesday night (April 26) at Community Building with Woodcock's Orchestra. Benefit Kiwanis Club charity fund. Admission 50c.—adv.

MOTORISTS WILL BE HAPPY

Bids Will Be Opened May 9 For Resurfacing
Park and Main Streets

City Manager Farnsworth was in Augusta Wednesday checking final specifications for the highway planned for Park and Main streets this Summer.

He believes that invitations to bid will be issued next week on the $90,000 project. Bids will be opened May 9, he said, with the possibility that the award for the work will be made by May 15.

The project will resurface with blacktop the length of Park street from the Maine Central Railroad tracks on Route 1 to the start of the cement highway on Camden street at the junction of Main street. When done Park and Main streets will have been completely resurfaced, much the same as is the business section of Camden.

Payment for the project will be a long term proposition, according to a statement previously made by Farnsworth, and will not be levied in any one year.

Completion of the work is expected by July 1.

ADMITS STEALING CHECKS

Mrs. Lucille O'Brien, Formerly Lucille Sylvia
Of Camden, In the Toils

Mrs. Lucille O'Brien, 19, reported by Associated Press this morning to be held in New York on charges of theft from the mails is identified by Camden town records as being the former Lucille Sylvia of Camden.

The records show that the girl, held by Federal authorities with two men companions, was born in Camden to Manuel Sylvia, a painter, and Edna (Berry) Sylvia. The parents are now separated. Whereabouts of the father is not known. The mother is identified as now being Mrs. Edna Green of Northport.

The records further show that the girl was married to William O'Brien in Camden on April 6, 1944, when she was 16 years of age. His parents are said to now be residents of Saco.

The trio are charged with the looting mail boxes of checks in the States of Georgia, Connecticut, New York and Ohio.

Held with Mrs. O'Brien is an over-leave soldier, Albert Allen, 30, and David Smith, 53, of Buffalo. Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Burchell is reported by Associated Press as having obtained a statement from the former Camden girl that she and Allen met about 18 months ago in New Haven, where she was employed as a waitress.

Mrs. O'Brien is held in $500 bail while Allen is under $5000 and Smith in $2500.

Mrs. O'Brien is reported to have admitted to government officials that she and Allen cashed stolen checks to the amount of $5000.

MODERN "INNOCENTS ABROAD"

Lois Tootill Tells Of Seniors' Trip To Washington—Home Tomorrow

Lois Tootill, special correspondent for The Courier-Gazette with the Rockland High Class of '49 on the Washington trip, gives an account of the group's activities from Monday through early Thursday.

The class is expected in Rockland tomorrow morning on the morning train after a visit in New York today.

Miss Tootill writes: We arrived in Baltimore at 1 p. m. Monday, and there we met our bus driver, Ernie Fowler, who has been wonderful to us and taken us to places not included in the tour. First we went to the Stafford Hotel for lunch where we ate at one long table with a card on it bearing the name of Rockland. In the same dining room, kids from Morse, Kennebunk and Rockport ate at tables similar to ours. When we got out of the Stafford, the sun began to shine and ever since it has been shining except for a rainstorm on Monday night.

We drove through the City of Baltimore to the City of Annapolis which is one of the most beautiful cities there are. Of course, the main interest in Annapolis was the Naval Academy of Annapolis. The most impressive sight was the Chapel and here in a crypt lies the body of John Paul Jones. The grounds are beautiful and everything is so neat and clean. The girls tried hard to take pictures of midshipmen but it was hard to get a good photo, because they moved so fast. On the way to Washington, most of us fell asleep until we reached the outskirts of the city.

We checked in at the Lafayette Hotel and had supper. That evening was free so everyone went wherever they wished.

Tuesday morning we had breakfast at 7.30, so that we could get (Continued on Page Two)

THE BLACK CAT

By The Roving Reporter

The Bath Times echoes The Black Cat's recent comment concerning the decline of kite-flying these days. The Times says:

"This pastime doesn't seem to be so popular with the young fry as it did years ago. Then, at this time of the year, one could almost always see at least a half dozen kites silhouetted against the sky in almost any direction. The kids used to make their own kites in those days with a lot of competition as to the best design, the color, etc. Often a face would be painted on the smooth paper surface and the family rag bag would be raided to find the most gaily colored material to make up the tail of the kite. A lot of care and study had to go into the makeup of this tail as this, with the way the kite was hung governed its flying ability and its stability in the air. It was not uncommon for a boy who was financially able to purchase a sufficient amount of string to fly his kite almost out of sight and what a thrill there used to be in the pull of a kite that was riding evenly and smoothly in the strong breeze!"

Writing from Phoenix, Arizona, Walter W. Morse, former Rockland boy tells of a plane flight from that city to Los Angeles and return. The return flight was made by moonlight, or as much of it as the eclipse would permit. The latter was a beautiful spectacle. The temperature was 95 when Mr. Morse wrote. Desert flowers were in bloom.

These rainy days, with which the month of April is so productive recall that unanswered query: What has become of the old umbrella man?

The appearance of paper cap pistols—or whatever they are—would seem to be rushing the season a bit.

Robert Garland, father of daylight saving time is dead in Pittsburgh. And there are some folks who wish it might have been daylight time, instead.

One year ago, Gov. Hildreth addressed local service clubs—Snow Marine Basin was the name of the new firm which was to establish marine railways on Crockett's Point. The business of the telephone company in Belfast was to be moved to Rockland—Rev. Ralph Phillips came to the Church of the Nazarene from Providence.

Grange Corner

News items from all of the Patrons of Husbandry are welcomed

Hope Grange played host to 24 members of Camden Grange Monday night, and a number of the Oregon Grange, Mrs. Clara Cox, J. Herbert Gould, master of Camden Grange worked first and second degrees on ten candidates, the largest number to be admitted to Hope Grange at one time in at least ten years. The candidates were Mrs. Ruth Payson, Miss Glenn Payson, Miss Natalie Payson, Charline Talbot, Emilie Richardson, Betty Wright, Mrs. Ruth Pease, Mrs. Annie Pease, Everett Pizer and Fred Kimball, Jr. Clifton Robbins and Master William Wright were in charge of refreshments. Sixty-six were present.

Something decidedly out of the ordinary was staged Tuesday night by 26 members of Good Luck and Weymouth Granges when they embarked on a record breaking "Mystery Ride" which ended up in Hampden, Me., with Eastern Star Grange as host. They think fog and hard traveling were more than offset by the royal hospitality extended by the host Grange. A clever "radio" program was followed by an excellent supper and social hour. It was the longest one of the most enjoyable mystery rides yet made to Eastern Star.

Members of the Warren Wonder Workers' Girls' 4-H Club and of the Georges Valley Boys' 4-H Club, with their leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Moore, as special guests of Warren Grange, Tuesday, put on the program including four demonstrations: Ironing of a man's shirt, by Avis Gammon; making a home-made first aid kit, by Joan Mathews and Valerie Robinson; inoculation of a chicken for Newcastle disease, by Herbert and Gilbert Martin; and making of garden row markers, by Kenneth Starrett and Arnold Hill. Other program numbers included a composition on the cow, by Sewall Peabody, and 4-H laundry hints by Violet Mitchell, Marjorie Wiley, Freda Hill, Cynthia Delano, Marjorie Cousins, and Faith Norwood.

East Union Grange went Wednesday to Liberty where the third and fourth degrees were conferred on a large class of candidates.

"Sisters' Night" will be observed Wednesday at Seven Tree Grange of Union.

A public beef stew supper will be served tonight at Seven Tree Grange Hall of Union, with a social evening to follow.

DEATH OF RABBI WISE

The death of Dr. Stephen Wise, renowned Jewish leader, whose work in behalf of the oppressed and underprivileged was pronounced "outstanding" by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will carry sincere sorrow throughout the civilized world. Millions gave pause to his radio broadcasts, and benefited from his words of wisdom. Rabbi Wise was 75, but in the prime of his work in behalf of humanity.

No question as to where the Maine House of Representatives stands on the fireworks matter. Tuesday it voted 106 to 14 to ban them, except in the case of supervised displays.

"THE UNITED STATES"

That the United States Navy is not to be thrown into the discard under the new order of things is evident from the laying of the keel of the world's largest aircraft carrier at Newport News. The 65,000-ton "super-flat-top" will cost $185,000,000 and under the title of "United States" should bring lasting glory to this nation's prowess on the seas.

SHOULDN'T BE REPEATED

An actual fire hazard was created on White Street Easter Sunday when that thoroughfare was lined on both sides by parked motor cars owned by church worshippers who apparently gave no heed to what might have happened if the Fire Department had been called to Knox Hospital or any of the properties in that area. The attention of Fire Chief Van E. Russell is directed to the incident, with the hope expressed that such a situation will not again be created.

BEST SINCE SOUSA

Tuesday night's concert by the Anah Temple Shrine Band in the Community Building was an outstanding musical event, and a show of hands would undoubtedly display an unanimous desire for a return engagement. Since the two local appearances of John Philip Sousa's immortal band, nothing like it has ever been heard in Rockland, and a more popular program, ranging from the music of the Gay Nineties to the classics could not be imagined. Come again—and we say it in all sincerity.

"RAINBOW POT OF SILVER"

Featured the Silver Wedding Anniversary Of Well Known Camden Couple

In observance of their silver wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grindle, Gould street, Camden, held "open house" Sunday from 4 to 8 o'clock, receiving 105 friends. The congenial occasion was made further pleasurable by the serving of dainty refreshments including a handsomely tiered anniversary cake. Assisting the hostess in receiving and serving were Miss Doris Ogier, who was bridesmaid at the wedding, Mrs. Edward Deaborn and Miss Ruth Grindle.

Neighbors expressed their remembrance in the novel fashion of a "Rainbow Pot of Silver" consisting of 75 silver dollars; while members of the family and other friends contributed in like manner to a total sum of about $300.

Among the guests from out of town were: Capt. Ben Thomas, of Providence, Bert Thomas and family of Bangor, Dr. Irving Tuttle of Union, Harry Gueshe of Searsport, Mr. and Mrs. E. Carl Moran, Mrs. Clara Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Marion Lowe, Miss Katherine McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. George Hamlin of Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Grindle (Frances Dearborn) were married 25 years ago at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Camden, by Rev. Ralph H. Hayden.

They have three children, Miss Ruth Grindle, R. N., employed as staff nurse at the Maine Eye & Ear Infirmary, Portland, who was home for the occasion; Gage Grindle, associated with the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Norfolk, who telephoned his congratulations; and Douglas Grindle who resides at home.

FINE BASEBALL THIS SUMMER

Outlook At Wednesday Night's Meeting—
Oliver Holden Is New Rockland President

Oliver Holden of Rockland was elected president of the Knox-Lincoln County Twilight League by a unanimous vote Wednesday night, at the league's first meeting of the year.

The meeting, to which the public was invited, was attended by about 35 fans. It was held at the Farnsworth Art Museum and the exhibits were open after the meeting.

Lively discussions ensued on various topics such as the quality of teams, the umpire situation and scheduling.

The following motions were made and passed: To have the same boundaries as last year allowing Waldoboro one exception. Nei Sprague, Passed 10-0. To pay $5 for plate umpire and $5 for base umpire. The visiting team will furnish the umpire behind the plate, the home team to furnish the umpire on the bases. Passed 10-1. That there be a 35-game schedule. Passed by roll call vote of team managers 4-3, with one abstaining.

From the reports given by each team there is evidence that a considerable amount of work on the diamonds is in progress especially in Waldoboro, Warren and Camden where considerable sums of money are being spent for the purpose.

The League's strength looks on the upgrade. Thomaston reported that their team would be strengthened. Spruce Head is going to have Dave Newcombe available for mound duty and with a year's experience in the League the team will be on the rise. Rockport will give all teams a tough time and it's very likely they will make merry with any team that holds them lightly. Their sea-on ending last year shows that for they took five of their last six games. So the Knox-Lincoln County fans can look forward to better baseball with more evenly-matched teams.

The next meeting for managers and directors only will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., at the Farnsworth Art Museum. The exhibits will once more be open through the courtesy of Mr. Brown, the director, at the end of the meeting.

Raymond Chisholm.

SHRINE BAND MADE BIG HIT

The Anah Temple Shrine Band has come and gone—leaving in its trail an audience of approximately 800 delighted listeners to the concert in the Community Building Tuesday night. "Nothing like it since the days of John Philip Sousa" was the verdict of old-timers who recall the march king's two appearances, in Farnsworth House several decades ago.

A colorful ensemble of 55 pieces the Shrine Band won a burst of applause as the curtain rose—applause which increased in volume with the rendition of each number on the two-part program.

A Maine composer's selection, the DeMolay Commandery March by the late R. B. Hall, was followed by the P. Von Suppe overture, "Morning, Noon and Night" which perhaps better than any other number on the program, displayed the band's skill and artistry.

A selection of famous melodies which came into being during the Gay Nineties proved a very popular number in Part 2, but the show was really stolen by the Trombone Novelties which received a tremendous encore.

to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing before the crowds. We saw them printing the currency of the United States on a tour through this building where we are not allowed to take cameras. Next, we went to the Pan-American Union and the Smithsonian Institute afterwards, but there is so much to see in so little time. Next we visited the Mellon Art Gallery which is a beautiful white building with wide steps and fountains on either side of the building. This was a beautiful background for the many snapshots taken then.

We beat the other school groups back to the hotel for lunch so we were served first. After lunch, we went to the Lee Mansion in Alexandria, Va., where Ernie also pointed out the home of John L. Lewis. After our visit to the Mansion, we rode to Arlington National Cemetery where we saw the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and waited until the changing of the guard.

Then on to Mount Vernon, the home of our first president, at which the crowds were so huge that we had to stand in line in order to enter the Mansion. One hour was spent on these spacious grounds of Mount Vernon. On the way back to the hotel, we stopped at Washington Municipal Airport to watch some Constellations come in and take off.

After supper, we visited the Lincoln Memorial and the Jefferson Memorial which were two of the most inspiring places in Washington. We passed the Blair Mansion where the president now lives on the way to the Congressional Library, where we saw the Gutenberg Bible and the Declaration of Independence.

That was the end of our night tour but everyone went out to see either "Little Women" or "Ma and Pa Kettle" so no one went to sleep until about 1:30 a. m.

Wednesday morning, the call for breakfast was 7:15-7:30, so we could get to the Washington Monument before the crowds. Then the group, brave people, either climbed up the 898 steps and took the elevator down or took the elevator up and walked down. This is certainly done once in a lifetime. Of course at every place we stop, we buy souvenirs to take home.

Then Ernie took us to Hain's Point to see the beautiful double cherry blossoms which are in bloom although the famous Japanese cherry blossoms have passed by.

The most important building in the United States was our next stop the Capitol. A guide took us through the Capitol and in the Senate chamber, all saw Senator Taft. Across the street, we went to visit the Supreme Court of the United States.

Back to the hotel for lunch, and out again for our last afternoon in Washington. While we were sitting on the bus, we saw John L. Lewis go by and one of the group ran out and took his picture.

This time at 5:30, we said goodbye to our driver, Ernie, and made him promise to stop in Rockland when he goes through, driving on a tour.

At night, the majority of the group went to Glen Echo Park, which is wonderfully cheap compared to other fairs or amusement parks. Here the courageous members rode on the roller coasters, airplane swings and many other things.

Thursday at 8 a. m., we left for New York City. We will arrive at 2 p. m., and have a free afternoon. Friday will be spent in the U. N. Headquarters and Friday night, at Radio City. DAYLIGHT SAVING Daylight saving, or Summer time, as some call it, goes into effect Sunday morning, and when you retire Saturday night, it would be well to set your clocks accordingly. Daylight time has become a fixed custom to the East, with its many advantages, but with some still lamenting it.

Highway Department crews are now engaged in the repair of the damage to city streets by the open Winter. City Manager Farnsworth describes the damage as the worst in years and which can only be patched on dry days which have been few and far between lately.

The opening of Charles E. Stackpole's new Farm and Home Store this week on St. George Road was a huge success with over 400 visitors swarming the fine new plant. The Maytag washer went to Mrs. Walter Sukforth, 7 Bunker street, this city and the $20 merchandise prizes fell to Leroy E. Merrill, 34 Spruce street and Mrs. Eddie Thayer, 5 Water street, both of Rockland.

The Police Department received a framed certificate from the National Safety Council Wednesday. The document testified to the fatal accident free record of the city for the year 1948. The only hitch was that the certificate sent here was for that for the community of Rosell Park, N. J. Chief Shaw is conducting a search for Rockland's certificate which, doubtless now rests in some other police station, possibly at Rosell Park.

City Manager Farnsworth has issued a temporary appointment to the police department to Daniel A. Lambert, 25, of Stockton Springs. Former New York City patrolman, he served two and one-half years with that department. He will go on duty Monday afternoon, working in place of patrolman Clarence E. O. Perry who is on military leave from the department.

Miss Frances Hurd will reopen her new Sandwich Stand Tuesday, April 26, same location, corner Main and Willow streets, specializing in fried clams to take out by the pint or quart.

Director Mike DiRenzo of the Community Building announces that the first annual pool and ping-pong tournament of the recreation program will get under way shortly. Entries will close next Wednesday with the tournament open to all students in the Rockland school system. The tournament will be run on a straight elimination basis until the winners are declared. Students wishing to enter the tournaments may contact DiRenzo at the Community Building during the regular recreation program hours.

Mrs. Hazel Stone of this city received word Monday of the sudden death of her son-in-law Lawrence DeGraff, Chief of Police of Belfast.

The tug, Rath, of New York, towed into port the first of the week by the Coast Guard cutter Yankton, has completed repairs at General Seaford's Shipyard and returned to sea.

Steven Schaap, one of the foreign students at Bowdoin College, was guest speaker at the Epistola Men's League meeting last night and gave a remarkable description of his native country of Holland. With much of its territory located below sea level the Dutch find it necessary to pump water to the higher levels, instead of pumping it in, as is the case in drought-stricken countries. Mr. Schaap told at length of his country's industrial progress and of its somewhat complicated international policies. Schaap is a forceful speaker and has a remarkable store of knowledge, so far as Holland is concerned. Omond A. Palmer, Harry Chase and Frank Rokes were appointed to the nominating committee. The next and final meeting of the season will be a ladies' night.

The Rockland fishing fleet has landed more than two million pounds of groundfish and redfish this month to top the entire landings of one year ago by more than half a million. General Seaford has received 2,171,000 pounds which exceeds the landings of April, 1948, by 555,000 pounds. This week is light on landings with the dragger fleet at sea. Heavy landings are again expected by the first of the week as the boats return to port.

A blaze under the hood of one of Wood's Bus line buses Wednesday afternoon called the fire department to the bus station on Winter street. Loaded for the Port Clyde run, the bus was setting in front of the station when the driver started the motor. Passengers were transferred to another bus for the trip.

Top fun of the season, the Grand Spring Costume Barn Dance will be held Tuesday night (April 26) at Community Building with Woodcock's Orchestra. Benefit Kiwanis Club charity fund. Admission 50c—adv.

J. Wallace Lovell, warden of the Maine State Prison, was guest speaker at the Lions meeting Wednesday and the members heard a fine talk presented by a fine, alert speaker. He deviated from the main topic long enough to discuss delinquency from the standpoint of the adult as well as juvenile. The meeting was very largely attended, with visiting Lions present from Camden and Vinalhaven. A hearty greeting was extended Leon White, who came into the meeting brown as a berry from his schooling at Camp Benning, Ga. Minutest matters were discussed at length.

A great Youth for Christ rally will be held Monday night at the Littlefield Memorial Baptist Church with Miss Charlotte Cook at the organ, a fine youth choir, special music that will appeal to all, and a fine message for young people will be brought by Rev. Joseph Sullivan of Massachusetts, guest evangelist at the Littlefield Church. There is a busy Youth For Christ schedule ahead as they meet at the Warren Baptist Church with the gospel-magician, Jack Udall, of East Barrington, New Hampshire, on May 9, at the Community Building May 23 for a great Word of Life rally with Jack Wyrzyen, Carlton Booth, internationally known singer, and hymn writer Norman Clayton at the console. Young people of all areas and churches are welcome for these rallies do not emphasize any one church, but simply seek to bring young people to Christ, and Christ to young people.

Members of the Methodist Young Adults were taken, blindfolded, by cars to the Owl's Head Town Hall Thursday night for a "Shipwreck Party." All went in the clothes they were wearing at the time the committee called them and this resulted in much laughter as the various "garbs" ranged from pajamas to street wear. Games were played, group singing was led by "Dick" Elings of one year ago by more than half a million. General Seaford has received 2,171,000 pounds which exceeds the landings of April, 1948, by 555,000 pounds. This week is light on landings with the dragger fleet at sea. Heavy landings are again expected by the first of the week as the boats return to port.

The Universalist Mission Circle of Rockland was hostess Wednesday to a large number of women from the various church groups connected with Church of Immanuel at a luncheon honoring Mrs. Rosalie A. West, of Boston, executive director of the National Association of Universalist Women, and Mrs. William E. Gardner of Bangor, State president of the society.

After a luncheon provided by members of Tonian Circle, with Mrs. Elizabeth Post and Mrs. Mary Hudson, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Levenseller, Mrs. Dorothy Christofferson, Mrs. Augusta Holmes, Mrs. Connie Daniels, Mrs. Helen Jackson, Mrs. Martha Senter, Mrs. Natalie Perry and Mrs. Frances McLean, Mrs. Thomas Stone, Mrs. John Smith Lowe presented Mrs. West, who brought greetings from the National Association, and told somewhat briefly of her having been born in the United States, although her parents came originally from Nova Scotia.

Parker McKellar's in Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maynard of Milton, Mass., are spending several days at their cottage on Spruce Point road.

Miss Mable Haskins has returned to her home in Boston after being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hatch for the week-end.

Mrs. West and her doctor-husband graduated from McGill University, and for nearly 25 years were associated with Dr. Grenfell and his mission work in Labrador, and in similar work in India. Truly she may be said to epitomize the familiar words: "From Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand."

Mrs. West touched upon the various phases of work carried on by the Association of Universalist Women, such as the Department of Outreach work in China, and in Japan previous to the war, Friendly House in North Carolina, work done at Outlaw's Bridge, N. C., and at the two diabetic camps in North Oxford, one known as the Clara Barton Birthplace camp for girls, and the Eliot P. Joslin Camp for diabetic boys, the latter a new project taken on in 1948. Work at the Clara Barton Camp has been carried on since 1921.

Songs were rendered by Theodore Strong, Jr. "Where'er You Walk," Handel, "Duna Josephine," McGill, and "I'll Never Ask You to Tell," Oscar Fox, which were greatly enjoyed.

Those present were: Mrs. John Smith Lowe, Mrs. Fred Lincoln, Mrs. Stuart Burgess, Mrs. Eugene Stoddard, Mrs. Fred True, Mrs. Grace Daniels, Mrs. Sherman Daniels, Mrs. Nettie Wotton, Mrs. Louis Walker,

Legislative Bill Provides For Being Filled Or Covered

The legislative Judiciary Committee has endorsed a bill intended to reduce danger from Maine's abandoned wells.

The bill was introduced by Representative Benjamin C. Bubar, Sr., of Blaine, the day after the body of three-year-old Kathy Fiscus was recovered from an abandoned well in San Francisco.

In introducing the bill by unanimous consent, Bubar said hunters "fear abandoned wells more than they fear wild animals."

The Pediatric unit has another feature added for children this week which should help the sick child feel more at home, with a chair and table just for him or her. The Tiny Tot Safety Table Company donated a special "Tiny Tot Table" and "Safety Chair" to the hospital. The table has many features far better for a hospital than the ordinary high chair, as it can not topple over; is provided with an Air-Craft Type Safety Belt; sanitary cushion, nursery rhyme table top and the reverse side makes a blackboard on table top; an adjustable foot rest and back support; safety foot locks so table can not move. If not in use it can be folded up like a card table. Many times children will eat better in a hospital, when permitted to have their meals at a small table. The safety chair will not tip, even if an adult stands on the edge of chair seat, and it is built to hold an adult. It, too, folds to put away if not needed.

TO OBSERVE "PRISON SUNDAY"

Salvation Army Will Hold Special Services At Thomaston Sunday

For the 54th consecutive year, The Salvation Army will concentrate its efforts next Sunday on stretching out friendly, comforting hands to men and women in prison, as the organization observes "Salvation Army Prison Sunday."

In the 11 States of the Eastern Territory, The Army has assigned a special task force of approximately 50 Salvationists, including bands and singers, to visit 218 penal institutions. It is announced by Commissioner Donald McMillan, Territorial Commander of New York.

Participating in the observance, Salvation Army officers here will visit Maine State Prison at Thomaston. Major and Mrs. Kenneth Ayers, Divisional Secretaries, and Robert Ayers of Portland will render a musical number and speak in the 9 a. m. service and will take part in all of the meetings of the day at the Rockland Salvation Army.

From the famous Sing Sing prison to federal and State penal institutions and county jails, special arrangements have been made with the authorities for religious and musical services. Attendance is voluntary, but the organization's Prison Bureau expects a large percentage of the inmates of each institution to attend. Throughout the nation it is expected nearly a quarter of a million men and women born Easter Sunday, April 17, together weighed 13 pounds and three ounces, were the second set of twins born in the hospital since Jan. 1. Mr. and Mrs. David Renegar are owners of the Craignair Inn at Clark Island. Miss Margaret Gustoske, R. N., is "specializing" her sister, Mrs. Renegar.

Admission: Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, Tenant's Harbor, surgical; Mrs. Helen Phillips, City, medical.

Discharges: Baby Boy Brown, South Thomaston; Mrs. Samuel Glover and baby, City; Irvin Fields, Rockport; Mrs. Laura Genthner, Rockville; Miss Donna Gardner, City; Donald Brewer, City; Miss Mary Bray, Owl's Head.

prisoners will participate in the services.

The annual observance of Prison Sunday supplements the year-round work of The Salvation Army in assisting and rehabilitating prisoners and their families. Helping these forsaken people to become useful citizens was one of the great aims of William Booth when he established the organization 83 years ago.

Often utterly abandoned by the society whose laws they had broken, these poor people want from bad to worse, beyond the reach of outside help until The Army began establishing its Prison Gate Brigades 67 years ago. These brigades, forbidden to enter prisons, met the discharged men and women on their release and tried to help them. Accepted and welcomed now by prison and government authorities, in all parts of the world, The Salvation Army today assists in finding them jobs, providing clothing and shelter, medical care, food and other necessities. Most of all it seeks to rehabilitate them.

The year-round work of The Salvation Army includes Bible correspondence courses, the conducting of religious services, personal counseling, the Lifes' Club and Brighter Day League and spiritual ministry to condemned men walking the "last mile" to execution. The supplying of seasonal remembrances on Mother Sunday, Mother's and Father's Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's are important factors in rehabilitating worthy inmates.

While this work is largely unpublished, it was brought dramatically to the attention of the world three years ago when the French Government signed a death warrant for infamous Devil's Island, as the result of an unrelenting fight waged by a quiet-mannered French Salvation Army Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Charles Pean. He spent 18 years fighting for its abolition, a fight which almost cost his own life in the dread, fever-ridden colony.

Haydn and Mozart

Works Of Famous Composers Figure In Concert At U. of M. Sunday

A program of music of the classic period will be presented in Carnegie Hall at the University of Maine Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is the fifth concert in the present series of recitals and the third of the historical sequence. The concert, devoted to the works of Haydn and Mozart, will be played by a chamber orchestra, assisted by James Gordon Selwood, of the faculty, tenor Paul Payson, Island Falls, baritone; and the varsity singers. Professor Lewis Niven will be the conductor.

The chamber orchestra will play two works of Haydn: "Notturmo No. VI in G-Major" and "Symphony No. 1 in D-Major." The "Eine Kleine Freimaurer Cantata" (A Little Freemason Cantata) will enlist the services of the soloists and male chorus as well as those of the chamber orchestra.

Among the varsity singers are Robert Gascoigne and James Gilchrist, both of Thomaston.

In the early days of the telephone, the instruments were often leased in pairs, permitting two stations to talk to each other but to no one else.

Easter Cantata

The First Baptist Church
Audience Heard Sacred
Music Sunday

Inspiring Easter services were held Sunday at the First Baptist Church under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald. The church auditorium was filled to capacity for both morning and evening services with 1400 the total attendance for all the services of the day. Three hundred and eighty-four were present in the Church School classes at noon.

Lovely Easter lilies surrounded the platform and the baptistry, and a large white cross decorated with calla lilies helped to show the significance of the day.

"Victory: Past, Present and Future" was the theme of the morning service, which was climaxed by Handel's great "Hallelujah Chorus," sung by the choir. A special feature of this service was the Junior Ambassador Choir which sang by memory, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

The evening service included Parts II and III of the cantata, "The Glory of the Cross," by Hadler. Part I was given in the Good Friday service. Organ and piano duets by Miss Charlotte Cook and Mrs. Nellie Maguire were given as preludes for both services. Following Mr. MacDonald's thought-provoking sermon, "If He Had Been the Gardener," a lovely baptismal service was held in which 14 followed their Lord into the waters of baptism. They were Richard Lowell Achorn, Mrs. June V. York, Mrs. Ada Payson, Miss Sandra Harman, Miss Janice Beal, Miss Evelyn Philbrook, Miss Betty Williamson, Miss Patricia Mitchell, Miss Joyce Wotton, John Alden, Clyde Sewall, Richard Von Dohlen, Robert Merriam, and Walter Hill.

Men Of Simonton's Corner
Do Fine Act Of Neighborly Kindness

Every once in a while in a world beset with wars and rumors of wars comes an incident so rich and wholesome in its human kindness that it gives every person who hears of it new faith in the human race and new courage to carry on.

Such an incident happened recently in the small community of Simonton's Corner in Rockport. At the "Corner" lives a fine elderly person, Mrs. Louise A. Melvin, rich only in the love and respect of her neighbors and in the affection of all who know her, but widowed and still further stricken by the recent passing of her only son.

In such a home the matter of fire wood is a serious problem which was noted by neighbors and friends who quietly shouldered Mrs. Melvin's problem as their own and proceeded to cut a large supply of wood, trim it out and truck it to the Melvin home.

In the community spirited group, headed by the Simonton firemen were: Ralph Cripps, Chesley Cripps, Howard Simonton, Warren Ulmer, Clifford Morton, Joseph Morton, Walter Annis, John Annis, Donald Simonton, Elmer Hamilton, Herbert Alexander, Phil Annis, Herbert Annis, Cecil Annis, Guy Annis, Errol Simonton, Ralph Simonton, Harvey Simonton, Harry Lent, Ralph Brown, Clarence Fendleton.

Future Of the Vinalhaven Ganders At Stake—Other Rivalries End

The Ganders and Skippers wound up their 25 game—season series last Monday night with the usual defeat of the Ganders, a defeat that gave them only six wins out of 25 starts, and set in motion all sorts of rumors in regard to the future of the team.

One report had it that Captain Grimes was going to sell out his portion of the stock of the Ganders' team and retire to the fish business. Another had it that a contest would be held some time before next Fall among the stockholders and players to try and corral some new and younger blood to carry on the great tradition of the Blue and Gold. Another scheme proposed was to put all the bowlers' names in a hat and draw out two new teams, but if this was done and the Goose happened to be made a Skipper what would he do with his Gander sweater? He couldn't part with that.

The Ganders dropped below 1300 again in this match, the only one giving a good job of bowling being the Goose who ended up his season with a nice 305 total and fastened his average quite a bit. Wym Gullford tailed him with a 304 and Wym's 117 was the best single of the evening. Wym has been hitting 'em hard and well under this year and his average should be pretty near tops for this aggregation.

Prom now on baseball will claim the major part of these two teams' sporting interest, while lobstering and fishing will keep the most of them out of mischief, during their waking hours. Of course, there will be some minor side issues like smelting parties as soon as the smelts are running, (and some are showing up), motor boat trips during the Summer and brief spell of hunting in the Fall. But when the frost is on the pumpkin and you have to throw another stick of wood on the fire to take off the chill, the boys will be gathering at the Old Cascade, wondering what the lineup will be and where the next feed is coming from.

And speaking of feeds, as a parting gesture, Captain Grimes collected 25 cents per nose all around at this match, with the remark that he was getting up a big feed. The boys are wondering if he meant this year or next.

Skippers—Young 264, Adams 240, Anderson 263, Gullford 304, Poole 264, total, 1235.

Ganders—MacDonald 242, Bickford 233, Sanborn 242, Shields 255, Goose 305, total, 1277.

The Canny Scots

Tuesday night the Legion teams continued to by-pass the pins and try to knock the end of the alley out, in the meantime raising the roof and shattering the atmosphere with everything from the rebel yell to "Anchors Aweigh."

"Crow" Johnson was again head man, but he did not get ahead very far or very fast for he slipped considerably from his performance of last week. Carleton and Bunker seem to be at sixes and sevens with this game as a glance at their scores will indicate. Carleton gathering 83-67 and 76 while Bunk figured out 70-66 and 76, with the totals denoting that all did not go well during the evening. Pendleton was a man of extremes, his low or 59 and high of 87 were just for all concerned. With high and low he did not need any jack, for his side got the game.

These boys do not seem to get their share of the pins but they do seem to collect a little more than their share of the fun.

Bunker's "Sparks"—V. Johnson 243, D. York 222, J. Carleton 206, Bunker 212, total, 883.

Bruce's "Scots"—J. Webster 232, Hood 237, Pendleton 221, Bruce 235, total, 925.

Big Injun, Big Score

The Redmen pulled off another surprise win over the Palefaces Wednesday night in which they also pulled a surprisingly big score out of the scorekeeper's pencil.

While the Palefaces were off a bit from their usually good performance, the Redmen were out in front every game and kept steadily drawing ahead. Walt Lyford was the fair haired boy for the Redskins with a single of 117 and a high total of 315, and with the rest of his team supporting him in a manner in which they have not been accustomed at any time this Winter, the Redmen were never in danger.

Captain Ed White of the Palefaces landed in the cellar with a thump, taking a bad thumping from "Lucky Duck" Haskell, but the real beating was assimilated by Jack Littlefield who was bowling against Walt Lyford and was 70 pins down on the long-legged Lyford. The two "Hosses" were pulling together in this match even and strong but they couldn't pull their team out of the ditch of defeat.

Big Hoss bowled along on an even keel, while Little Hoss started weak but finished strong, Frankie Hamilton who corralled the highest single of the evening with his 119, finally managed to land on a losing team and had to pay for mistake. With two straight scalpings to their credit the Redmen are getting quite chesty, and the things they claim they are going to do to the Palefaces from now on would make any tenderfoot's blood turn to water.

But Big Chief Dyer is still smarting under the sting of too many defeats to let his Braves run off the reservation, and is holding in on their enthusiasm until the record is a bit more even. "Redmen celebrate too soon," said the Big Chief as he took a deep drag on his pipe. "Paleface play possum. Bimeby he jump up and pin Redman's ears back. Redman got big ears and it's gonna hurt."

Redmen—P. Barter 267, Lyford 315, F. Dyer 261, Snowdeal 267, Haskell 279, total, 1389.

Palefaces—Hamilton 289, Littlefield 245, Davis, Sr. 273, Davis, Jr. 275, White 242, total, 1324.

Shields Was Hot

The second match between Herb Lovelless "Unbeatables" and Ed White's "Masons" took place Thursday night and if it proved anything at all it proved that the "Unbeatables" will have to change their name, for they took a worse beating this time at the hands of the Masons than in their first encounter.

The main factor in this bad trimming was the phenomenal bowling of Shields, who put on an exhibition the like of which has not been seen in the Cascade for many years. With a high string of 135 and total of 339 he was head and shoulders above any other bowler, although ably aided by Ducky Haskell whose 289 was a poor second. These two worthies were the only Masons to win over their opponents, but their margin was so big it carried every string for the Masons.

Lyford who only the night before

Atlas had nothing on him.

Forrest R. Pinkerton is foreman of the ad alley of The Courier-Gazette and makeup man on the pages of the paper as they are prepared for the presses.

His time in the printing game goes back to 1914 when he and his father, Rev. John L. Pinkerton, had a small hand press in the cellar of their home in Bowdoinham. Later, they obtained a job press which operated by foot power and the urge to be a printer was born in "Pink."

Four years at Bates College served only to enhance the printing game in his mind as he worked spare time on the Lewiston Sun. With college days behind him, he entered the employ of the now defunct Biddeford Record and later worked in a job printing shop in Saco.

He came to The Courier-Gazette in October of 1926 as a compositor and was made foreman in 1939. More than dependable, he is one of the organizations old faithfuls who get the paper out on schedule despite situations which arise from time to time to bedevil those who gain their livelihood by the graphic arts.

SILVERY HERRING "DOWN EAST"

Season Has Officially Opened, But the Little Fishes Have Not Arrived

Local sardine men always bend an ear to the herring situation "down East," and they will read with interest the following article which was clipped from the current issue of the Eastport Sentinel.

Quoddy sardine factories are all ready to start packing the silvery herring when fish put in an appearance in the waters of Quoddy Bay. Spokesmen for the industry intimated however, that though the packing season will start officially tomorrow, it will still be several weeks before packing operations really get under way.

As far as the Sentinel could ascertain only one factory, Riviera Packing Company, expects to start work tomorrow, although most factories are all ready to start operations as soon as fish are available. The completely new and modern R. J. Peacock Canning Company plant is not quite ready to take fish, but the management feels that as soon as fish in any quantity are available that the new factory will be ready to process them.

Lester Wass, general manager of the Machiasport Canning Company plant revealed yesterday that his three factories at Eastport, Machiasport and McKinley are all ready to take fish the first day there are enough. During the past winter a number of improvements have been made at the local Machiasport factory. Wass said, and a heated warehouse was available for the first time. When packing operations start this Spring the employees will find vastly improved packing room facilities, with accommodations for about 20 percent more packers than were employed last year. A new air circulating system has been installed as well. The usual March run of fish did not appear this year, and it is impossible to estimate when there will be sufficient fish to make packing operations feasible, according to Wass.

Herman Boone of Palspearl Products, Inc., factory, newest entrant in the sardine packing field, revealed that his firm probably will not even try to take fish until around May 10. The first stainless steel flakes ever to be used in a sardine factory in the world are believed to be installed at the B. H. Wilson Fisheries, according to the president of the firm, Burpee H. Wilson. Other improvements made at the Wilson factory are improvements on the flaking machines, automatic flake and rack washers, and a suction pump to unload fish from the sardine boats. The suction pump unloading will cut down the time needed to unload sardine boats from an hour and a half to 20 minutes, according to Wilson.

A new labeling machine and a can washer that wash the cans as they come from the closing machines before they enter the retorts. Wilsons also have a new closing machine, increasing their closing capacity to about 600 cans a minute when their battery of four machines is operating full tilt. A new sprinkling system has also been installed.

Moses B. Pike, Holmes Packing Corporation general manager stated yesterday that lack of fish would prevent his firm's opening tomorrow. During the past Winter the Holmes factory has been busy repairing some of the damage caused by the fire that destroyed the Meard Corporation and the Holmes plant in May 1947. Despite the fact the fire occurred nearly two years ago, all the damage caused by it has not yet been repaired due to the fact that during the canning season little work can be done on the factory.

The Glory of God

Tuesday night, April 12, Maine witnessed one of the marvels of nature—the eclipse of the moon. A full moon rose in splendor in the eastern sky, a phenomenon so familiar to those of this day that the exact time to expect it is predicted to a second, a year in advance of the event. Astronomers observed it with intense interest.

It came on at 9:28 as the shadow of the earth began to cross the moon. Within an hour the planet was completely blanked out and it was 11:54 p. m. before the earth's shadow let any of the sun's rays through to the moon, and 12:54 before all was calm again.

This calls to mind David's great psalm: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork. There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them he set a tabernacle for the sun. His going forth is from the end of the heavens, and his circuit unto the ends of it; and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof."

Was not this eclipse, visible to all, a direct manifestation of the glory of God? Then David said: "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple."

Nothing is hidden from a man because he lacks education, if he seeks God. Many a Phi Beta Kappa key has kept its owner possessing scholarship, from an understanding of the glory of God, so patent to one of humbler attainment.

William A. Holman.

Etchings and Lithographs By Famous Artists At Farnsworth Museum

Etchings by James McNeil Whistler, lithographs by Stew Wengert and wood engravings by Kevin B. O'Callahan are the feature of an exhibition opening today in the museum's Square Gallery.

Six selections from the famous "Thames Set" by Whistler show waterfront scenes in the late nineteenth century in London. With impeccable draughtsmanship this expatriate American (he was born in Lowell, Mass., and went to England after fleeing of West Point) caught the flavor of the riverside for all time.

These examples are from the early period of his work as may be seen in the tighter, somewhat more closely controlled execution and the fact that they are signed with his name rather than the famous butterfly which identified the artist's later work.

The spirit of the Maine coast is preserved in the lithography by Stew Wengert. Regarded as one of America's outstanding lithographers his technical virtuosity is one of the hallmarks of his craft as well as the well-known Maine subject matter—Shoosneers, rocks, gulls, fishermen's cottages and churches are all seen in the eight prints.

The work of the third member of the exhibition, Kevin B. O'Callahan is executed in the medium of wood engraving. The artist has completely utilized the wood both in medium and in subject matter. Massive timbers, half-completed hulls, frames and ribs as well as a Friendship Sloop ready for launching are seen together with the other coastal scenes.

These prints are all from the Farnsworth collection of graphic art and for the most part are presented here for the first time.

The exhibition will be on view until mid-May when the Museum will show Persian fabrics from the Hobart Moore Memorial Collection of Yale University. Mrs. Margaret T. J. Rowe, Curator of the Yale collection will speak at the museum on the collection early in June.

Continuing at the Museum is the popular Block House exhibition of fabrics and fabric designs, until May 11.

The Rockland High School "Cauldron" is now in process in the shops of the Courier-Gazette and will be in the hands of the student body by the latter part of May.

Many changes have been made in the annual under the supervision of faculty advisor Robert Hybels and editor Lois Tootill. The arrangement of pictures is much different than in past years with written material being cut to allow the new format.

The covers will be white with the title in a dark green ink. Each section of the book will be opened with a page of light green paper with the section title and art work printed in the dark green of the cover design.

The section containing the individual photographs of the members of the Senior class and the record of the class activities through the four years will be printed in black ink on white paper. Following sections will be done in deep brown on white with the advertising section returning to black on white.

The advertising section has been enhanced with the introduction of small panels of student childhood photographs and their descriptions on each page of the section.

Many of the Seniors are having a deluxe edition which will be bound in permanent covers with white leatherette.

The activities of the school year have been covered fully with even the track and baseball teams of this year being included in the photographs. Past years have seen these teams and their activities carried over to the following year. Candid photos of everyday school happenings and athletics have been included this year, along with the usual photos of class officers, play groups and various student board and committees.

"DOING WHALE OF A JOB"

"Three R's" Getting More Attention In the Schools Than They Did 100 Years Ago

The "three R's," instead of being neglected, are getting more attention than ever in the nation's schools. So reports Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education Association.

The amount of time spent in today's school on the three R's is more than four times as great as it was 100 years ago," Givens said in the association's annual report. "The techniques of teaching the 'tool' subjects reading, writing and arithmetic are vastly improved. Students who can advance rapidly are given the opportunity to do so. Special difficulties hampering the advance of some students are diagnosed and eliminated through instruction adjusted to individual needs. The three R's are still the foundation of our school studies. Schools are teaching them better than they have ever been taught."

Children read more books, read more rapidly and read with greater understanding, Givens says.

In grandfather's time, one basic reader was often the only reading text. Not so now, says Givens, adding that it's now not unusual for a pupil in the better schools to read 25 or 30 books during his first year.

Givens also reported progress in the teaching of social studies, safety and conservation, international understanding, music and the visual arts health and related subjects.

Elaborating on his formal report, Givens told a news conference that the schools are "doing a whale of a job," considering the shortage of space and teachers.

The Census Bureau reports that the nation's school enrollment topped 28,000,000, highest in history at the start of the present school year.

Work On The Range

Part Of The Busy Program Which Battery D Has Assigned Itself

In spite of the bad weather on Army Day Battery D 703d AAA Battalion's spirit was undaunted and an interesting impromptu schedule was adhered to throughout the day. The evening program was carried out as planned and met with very favorable response by all who were present.

Last Monday night we settled back into the saddle and drew up plans to fire small arms on the range April 30 and May 1. We will without doubt work hard during our stay on the range but we will have the opportunity to put into actual practice some of the lessons learned in the regular Monday night drills which will help us on the road to being better soldiers which all members of Battery D are striving to be.

Most of the "small talk" down at the Armory from now on will probably be about the two weeks at camp that lies before us and all the Battery personnel are anticipating the opportunity to "practice what we preach" and the good fellowship that goes along with being "in camp."

We are still following closely the principles of Operation 117—that is to reach the full Battery strength of 117 men and we are forging ahead with new enlistments coming in each week.

There are still opportunities in several of the Battery's sections for good men who are able to qualify for ratings and the gate is open to all men of good caliber to join Battery D and partake of the advantages the Maine National Guard offers.
